Perfect for forum/blog owners who want to know if someone took a link from their website in trade for a post on their blog. It also checks if the link is still working while the site owner is sleeping. Pros Has a free version. Verifies if link is active or not. Can automatically update the database if a link that's verified is taken in trade for a post or after a certain time. Can check if your website is still active using forums like WP-Forum, Blogspot, etc. I've been using it for a year now and it does exactly what it says it will. It finds dead links, but not the percentage of dead links. I use it to find out if my links are dead before promoting my website and it always tells me that my links are not dead. So I know that my links are alive Very nice and easy, but it appears that it only checks links that are not already verified (in "the Last This Week" list) and fails to check those that are verified. Both of these issues are fixed in the version 2.1 and I do not have any more problems. I have been using WPcheck for over a year now and I love it. I can use it to find dead links and it keeps records of the activity of the link so I can tell whether to change it or not. One of the few apps that actually gives an accurate report rather than just saying no dead links.Coprescription use and divergent trends in statin and antiplatelet utilization in a well-defined commercial population. wpCheck is a PHP script that makes a list of links in your website and checks if they exist in your partners websites. If they are missing they can be added and they will be marked as new. To validate their listing you can specify a time for which the link will not be checked again. You can also specify that you will not be notified on the status of the exchange. Once wpCheck is done, it will display the links that were marked as added and the links that were still in the partners' site. It is very simple to use. No special configuration is required. To use it, put the link list in an text file or in a MySQL database. In the example below we have a list of 10 links. Please note that there is no security check whatsoever. Your link will be added only if the partner has the address that you had specified. In this example there are 2 partners, jenwiz.com and theskatergirl.com. jenwiz.com is one of the partners (if you look at the exchanges you will notice that it looks strange). Theskatergirl.com is a new partner, added after the link exchange was completed. Theskatergirl.com is checked with the list of links, but jenwiz.com is not. If a new partner is added, a list of links must be added in the file that is used by wpCheck. To list all exchanges, please run the script with the -v parameter. All exchanges are saved in the same file (called exchanges.txt in this example). If a partner is missing in the list of partners, it will be added to a list of new partners. There are 3 kinds of links: http ( https ( with ( If there is an error in one of the paths, it will be marked as invalid. It can be made very simple.
